

NEW CANDIDATE ENTERS THE GREAT CONTEST

Miss Frances Wilkinson Enters the Race for Popularity
With 5000 Votes—Nearly all the Other Candidates, Also Make Substantial Gains—Miss
Lula Dial Makes Large Increase

"Time and tide waits for no man" and just as true as this old saying, the great popularity contest is nearing its grand close. This week the ballot is 8 and two more additions, will see the publication of 10 the last one.

"Act in the living present" and not before it is too late, which will be only too soon. The figures this week show an increase for the active ones all up the standing, and next weeks publication will likely spring some sensational surprises. People are now beginning to realize, that this is the greatest contest in this part of the province and that there is something in it for the winner.

The Heintzman piano is a beauty and the signed contract for it may be seen by anyone at this office.

Now is the time for you to turn in all your subscriptions so that you may let your friend know that you are in the race and stand a good show of winning. There are still three weeks counting this one, in which to get busy and a little active subscription soliciting may win you the piano. If not, the pony is also well worth the effort and a gold watch is not to be despised at any time. The time grows shorter every day and there is no time like the present to act.

Remember, disinterested parties will make the final count so all are sure of a square deal.

The strife gets keener each day among the candidates and their friends are dropping in and subscribing for them unsolicited.

As the standing indicates, Miss May Brightman is still at the top with a small gain on her last weeks figures, closely followed by Miss Bessie Brewster.

Miss Bessie Johnson who entered the race on March 10th is showing some speed and will give the leaders a run for their money.

This week also sees a new candidate in the strife, Miss Francis Wilkinson, with the good standing of 5000. She says that she will be game and will fight to a finish, win or lose. That is the talk that brings in the voter.

Remember a subscription counts ten times as much as the paper ballot in the paper and are the ones that boost up your standing. So do not depend on the paper ballot too much. The standing to date is follows:

VOTES TO DATE

May Brightman, Mountain House	29300
Bessie Brewster, Bowden	17200
Bessie Johnston, Bowden	14200
Lula Dial, Raven	11000

Alice Wilson, Red Lodge	900
Miss Rose, Carbon	800
Miss Smyth, Trochu	700
Miss F. Cousin, Innisfail	700
Miss Thurston, Milnerton	700

As we go to press the latest mail brought in 10000 votes for Miss Lula Dial changing her position from fifteenth place to fourth standing. This is only one of the many surprises that may be sprung on you so don't be caught napping girls.

A Tale of Moral Heroism

Faith laughed. Then she passed her hand over her father's sleeve.

"I do believe you have gone and bought a new overcoat! You aren't going to be sick, are you, father? Are you feeling all right in your mind?"

"Your mother made me promise that I would get one as soon as I reached the city," said Malcolm, a little sheepishly. "It only cost $8.50. That was one reason I was late getting around to the Fultons. The train was delayed by an accident too."

"Eight dollars and a half," muttered Faith with some indignation. But the thought of the father and his love for her that had brought him to the city softened her indignation. She clung to him closer, and the other men looked at father and daughter with great interest.

"But how did you happen to know I was here?" asked Faith suddenly.

"I didn't, but when I called at the Fultons' Mr. Stanley had just gone. Mrs. Fulton told me who he was, and confessed that she had no idea that you were in any way connected with the story of Stanley's life. She said he told her he expected to be at the studio this afternoon. No one knew where you had gone, and so I came down here to find him, intending to go back to the Fultons' by the time you returned."

"It's all simple enough, isn't it?" said Malcolm Stanley thoughtfully.

"Yes," said Faith. Then she suddenly remembered that she was a "hired girl," having a Thursday afternoon out.

"Father, I must be getting back to the Fultons'. They cannot live without me. Put that down in your sociological notes on the 'hired girl problem'—that no matter how low in the scale the 'hired girl' may be she is really of first importance for the comfort and happiness of thousands of the best families in the land."

"That's true. Why isn't there some way, then, to elevate and dignify the service?" asked Malcolm Kirk, who seemed ready to discuss the problem seriously.

"No, no, father; we can't stop to reform the world right here. It is too late. Do you want your daughter to be scolded for not getting dinner in time?"

"I am going back with you," said her father, rising.

Then he turned toward Stanley, who was looking a little anxiously at father and daughter.

"Come, Stanley, I'll take the liberty of asking you to come with us. Mrs. Fulton said you might return this evening anyway. We haven't had our talk out, and I will be responsible for the consequences of taking you out with us."

"I was planning to go," said Stanley, looking relieved. "I want to see Mr. Fulton again on business." He did not say that he wanted to see Faith.

"Come to think of it," said Raleigh suddenly, "I have an invitation myself to take dinner with the Fultons tonight. Mrs. Raleigh is out of town, and Fulton asked me to come out and talk over a new art design he has received for the cover of his mining journal."

"But," cried Faith in some dismay, "do you three big men realize that I am the 'hired girl' at the Fultons'? Do you think I can possibly get a dinner ready at this time of the day for such appetites as I am sure you all have?"

There was a look of embarrassment on the faces of Raleigh and Stanley, but Malcolm Kirk settled the matter by saying, as he took Faith's arm and led her out of the studio:

"Don't be alarmed, gentlemen! I will speak for the dinner. Faith can make a palatable dinner out of bread and water in some mysterious way, and if everything else is wanting we can feast on the remarkable events of this afternoon."

So they went out, laughing and talking, and as they took a carriage for Ellis avenue, the driver engaging to get them there before 5 o'clock, there was no more happy, light hearted girl in the great city than Faith Kirk.

CHAPTER XIX.

FAITH FINDS A MORE CONGENIAL POSITION.

That was the most remarkable company dinner that Mrs. Fulton ever knew in her house. Faith insisted on going to work as if nothing unusual had happened. By 7 o'clock everything was ready, and the company sat down. Malcolm Stanley rubbed his eyes several times as Faith came in and removed the various courses and served with a quiet dignity that made its impression on every side. Mrs. Fulton was visibly embarrassed by the fact that the girl who was in her kitchen, her "help," was the daughter of Malcolm Kirk, who was the author of such stories in the newspapers. Roy had discovered his authorship at once by asking him a leading question, and Malcolm had not been able to conceal his identity. There was an unusual respect in the young gentleman's attitude toward the Kansas preacher, a respect, which, however, did not prevent him from eating the larger part of a dish of preserves unobserved during the general excitement of conversation.

Malcolm Kirk looked proudly at Faith every time she came into the room, and the fact that she was there serving in household work did not disturb him or give him any false feeling of shame. Even Mrs. Fulton had a vague dawning of the fact of nobility in service that had been an unknown thing to her, although she could not help feeling astonished whenever she looked around the table and realized who her guests were.

After dinner was over Alice insisted on going out to help Faith. Her mother did not rebuke her, and Faith gratefully accepted her aid. When the work was all done, Mrs. Fulton came into the kitchen.

She was struggling with an unusual emotion, and it was not easy for her to say what she had prepared.

"Faith—Miss Kirk, of course—you must come into the parlor with us this evening. You ought to have told me who you were. I—I—perhaps, I have not treated you just right. I did not know."

"Don't say anything about that, ma'am," said Faith. "This experience has been worth a good deal to me. I'm afraid I've had some un-Christian thoughts about you."

"You do not need to say anything about that," said Mrs. Fulton hastily. Then she added in a tone that made Faith feel that she had been thinking a good deal of Faith's efficient service. "We shall not know how to get along without you. You have quite spoiled us for the average help."

"I'm glad if you've been pleased," replied Faith, and that was all that was said then, but the atmosphere between her and Mrs. Fulton cleared up wonderfully.

That evening was not soon forgotten by the Fultons. The three guests had a good deal to say. All of them had seen a good deal of the world, and each, from his own point of view, was a fascinating talker. Mr. and Mrs. Fulton sat silent and intensely interested. Mr. Fulton quite forgot his business interests for awhile. Alice and Faith sat near together and listened breathlessly to one or two stories Malcolm Stanley told very modestly about some genuine adventures in the mining districts of the African Transvaal. Roy, who was just beginning to devour books in much the same manner as he devoured pie, leaned his chin on his hands and his elbows on his knees,

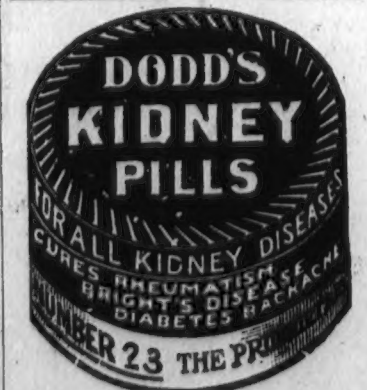

"You ought to have told me who you were."

looking up at the three men who represented so much that was heroic to him.

But perhaps the one person who impressed the whole company most deeply was Malcolm Kirk.

There was something so modest, yet so manly, so winsome in its genuine Christian sympathy in his whole manner, that even Mrs. Fulton was profoundly moved by it.

"I like that Mr. Kirk," she said to her husband that evening. And that meant a good deal for her.

Malcolm and Stanley remained that night at the Fultons' at their urgent request, and in the morning after breakfast, while Mr. Fulton and Stanley were talking business in the library, Faith and her father held a conference in the parlor.

"I had planned to take you back home with me, my dear," said Malcolm. "But Raleigh told me last night of his niece, Miss Varney, and said there was no doubt of your being able, with his recommendation, to secure a good position there. We want to do what is best in every way. Your mother is homesick for you too."

"Well, father, I feel as if I ought to stay in the city if I can really become a breadwinner. Let me try it awhile at the studio, and if I fail then I'll come home and spend the rest of my days cooking for you and the boys."

"How about your work here, Faith? Are you under promise to Mrs. Fulton to stay any length of time?"

"No, father. But I think it would be no more than fair for me to stay three or four weeks until Mrs. Fulton has time to work in some one else."

"I think so, too," replied Malcolm, who in all his relations to others was always guided by the strictest sense of fairness and honor. "Do what is right in the matter. Better talk frankly with Mrs. Fulton about your plans, and let her feel that you are willing to stay as long as it is right."

When Mrs. Fulton came in, Malcolm and Faith had a talk with her. The result of it was that Faith promised to remain with Mrs. Fulton another month. Meanwhile she was to see Miss Varney, and if arrangements could be made she was to enter the studio at the end of the time of her service at the Fultons'. Mrs. Fulton was considerably surprised and a good deal pleased with the arrangement. It was a good deal more than she had supposed Malcolm Kirk or his daughter would agree to do, but she did not know either of them as well as she did afterward.

SPRING REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

Raw, Damp Weather Starts
the Pain, But the Trouble
Lies in the Blood.

Changeable spring weather, often raw, cold and damp, is pretty sure to bring a time of misery to people who suffer from rheumatism. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism, the trouble is rooted in the blood—the damp changeable weather merely starts the aches and often almost unbearable pains going. The trouble must be reached through the blood, and the poisonous rheumatic acids driven out. This is a medical truth every rheumatic sufferer should realize. Liniments, outward applications and so-called electric appliances, never did, and never can, cure rheumatism. The sufferer is only wasting valuable time and money with this sort of treatment, and all the time the trouble is becoming more firmly rooted—and harder to cure. There is just one sure way to cure rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure, weak, acid tainted blood. They purify and strengthen it and so root out the cause of rheumatism. Mr. John Finamore, Marysville, N. B., says:—"I was laid up with rheumatic fever for a year, and for eight months of that time I could not go about. My blood had seemed to turn to water, and the pain I endured was at times almost unendurable. Notwithstanding I was under the doctor's care I was not regaining my strength and I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I took altogether nine boxes and they simply worked wonders in bringing back my lost strength. I still take the Pills occasionally as I am working in a saw mill where the work is pretty heavy."

Not only rheumatic sufferers, but all who have any trouble due to weak, watery blood, will find a cure through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is because of their direct action on the blood that these Pills cure such troubles as anaemia, indigestion, general weakness, neuralgia, and the aches, pains and secret troubles women folk alone know. Give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and they will not disappoint you. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

There were 9,162 entries for land in 1909 in the Calgary district, a large increase over 1908.

"When I first decided to allow the people of Tupelo to use my name as a candidate for congress, I went out to a neighboring parish to speak," said Private John Allen to some friends at the old Metropolitan hotel in Washington recently.

"An old dorky came to greet me after the meeting," Marse Allen, he said, "I's powerful glad to see you. I's known ob you sense you wuz a babby. Knew yoh pappy long befo' you-all wuz bohn, too. He used ter hold de same office you got now. I 'members how he held dat same office fo' years and years."

"Why, de office of candidate, Marse John; yoh pappy was candidate fo' many years."

"A Grand Medicine" is the encomium often passed on Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and when the results from its use are considered, as borne out by many persons who have employed it in stopping coughs and eradicating colds, it is more than grand. Kept in the house it is always at hand and it has no equal as a ready remedy. If you have not tried it, do so at once.

I saw you at the musicale yesterday afternoon. I'm so sorry I couldn't get a chance to speak to you. Did you enjoy my daughter's singing?"

Experimenting Cost $100 $1.00 Paid for the Cure

Rheumatism disappeared when the poisons were removed from the system by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Experiments are sometimes necessary and almost always expensive. It is unusually wise to let others do the experimenting and profit by their experience.

When it is a matter of regulating the liver, kidneys and bowels and driving out of the system the poisons which cause rheumatism, backache, lumbago and other pains and aches, experience has proven that Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills are the most effective treatment available.

They are different from ordinary kidney medicines in that they regulate the liver and bowels, as well as the kidneys, and in this way get at the very source of the trouble.

Let others experiment if they will. This letter shows what experimenting cost one man, and many have had somewhat similar experience.

Mr. James Clarke, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I have great pleasure in testifying to the good results I have obtained by using Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. For four years I suffered from Rheumatism in my shoulders and back and could not lift my arms above my head. I tried nearly all the remedies. Lots of them were to be sure cures, but none of them gave me relief."

"I was then persuaded to use Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and soon found relief. By following up this treatment a thorough cure was brought about and for six months I have been free from rheumatism. It cost me at least one hundred dollars in experimenting before using Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, which cured me at the cost of 25 cents a box."

You can be sure of definite beneficial results when you use Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cts. a box. All dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

NA-DRU-CO

Formulae Have Been Well Tried Out

Though the NA-DRU-CO line of Medicinal and Toilet Preparations have been on sale for a few months only, don't think for minute that in buying NA-DRU-CO goods you are experimenting with new or untried preparations.

Their Origin

The twenty-one wholesale drug firms now united in the "National" had all of them lengthy careers, some for fifty to one hundred years, prior to the union. Each firm had acquired or developed a number of valuable formulae for medicinal and toilet preparations, all of which became the property of the "National".

Since the union our expert chemists have carefully gone over these formulae and selected the best for the NA-DRU-CO line. Every formula has been carefully studied by these experts, improved if possible, and then thoroughly tested again, in actual use, before we consider it good enough to bear the NA-DRU-CO Trade Mark.

An Example

A good example of what we mean is NA-DRU-CO Nervozone for Brain Fog or nervous break-down. The formula was pronounced the most scientific combination of nerve medicines, but this was enough for us; we had it tried out with a dozen different kind of Brain workers—School Teachers, Lawyers, Bookkeepers—as well as Society leaders and home workers, and everywhere the result was so good that we adopted it as one of the best of the NA-DRU-CO line.

Some Meaner Than Others

It is said of Lary Cardigan's recent volume of biography that her verdict on the great of her chosen period is much like that of an old parson at the highly approved funeral of a parishioner:

"Brethren, we must agree that our deceased friend was mean in some things—but let us in Christian charity allow that he was meaner than others."

"What! You haven't heard of our Masonic lodge? Why, sir, it's celebrated from one end of the country to the other."

Sting of Ingratitude

A young physician in the east side, New York city, spent much time in charitable practice. In fact, he sometimes gives to a poor patient enough money to pay for prescriptions. "I'm not getting rich," he explains, "but I simply can't see them suffer for medicine that may put them on their feet again."

Not many days ago the doctor had occasion to visit a woman who occupied one small tenement room with her three children. After making out a prescription he gave her $2 telling her to buy the medicine and to use the change for needed food. On the following day, as he was about to enter the tenement for a second call, he met the 10 year old daughter of the patient.

"How is your mother?" he inquired of the child.
"Oh, she's well," was the answer.
"She took that $2 and got a real doctor."

Hope for the Chronic Dyspeptic.—Through lack of consideration of the body's needs many persons allow disorders of the digestive apparatus to endure until they become chronic, filling days and nights with suffering. These pills are specially compounded to combat dyspepsia and the many ills that follow in its train, and they are successful always.

At a recent contest in England a ready answer secured one lady canvasser a Conservative vote. She had fluently advanced several reasons in favor of her candidate to a grumpy elector, who told her she could talk the hind legs off a donkey.

The retort so tickled the voter that he promised to support her side.

BUT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE RHEUMATISM

What they Did for W. H. Craine, and Why They Always Cure Rheumatism—They Remove the Cause.

Toronto, Ont. (Special).—In these days of sudden changes of temperature known to so many suffering people as Rheumatism weather the experience of W. H. Craine, of 103 Gladstone Ave., this city, is of widespread interest. Mr. Craine suffered from Rheumatism. He is cured and he knows the cure. It was Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Yes, I know Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my Rheumatism," Mr. Craine states. "For after I started taking them I used no other medicine. I never cease recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to my friends."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism by putting the Kidneys in condition to strain the uric acid out of the blood. It is uric acid in the blood that causes Rheumatism. Cold or damp causes it to crystallize at the muscles and joints and then comes those tortures every rheumatic knows only too well. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism by curing the Kidneys. The cured Kidneys remove the cause of the Rheumatism.

At the Village Council meeting held on Monday night, the question of getting better fire appliances was fully discussed. The council decided to hold a meeting of the rate payers on Monday evening and take the matter up before them. A new crossing is to be laid across to the station which is much needed. The question of allowing poultry to run at large occupied much of the meetings time, but no decision was reached. No day was set for a general clean up of the village streets and yards, but the question will be taken up at the next meeting.

Last Tuesday night the Brewster House was the scene of a very pretty social function in the way of a bridge party, given by Mrs Cornish in honor of her friend and guest Mrs Tuck of High River. The party was held in the tastefully decorated dining room of the hotel and about forty guests were present. The trophies were won by Miss Millie Hayward and Mr Jack Arnold, the booby prize going to Mr Anderson. The trophy Miss Millie Hayward received was a beautiful cake dish while Mr Arnold received a fine celluloid pack of playing cards. At one o'clock the guests departed for their homes all voting Mrs Cornish a charming hostess.

Now boys what about a baseball team for Bowden this year? It is about time to get together and organize. Olds hold their organization meeting on Tuesday night, and are sending a delegate to Red Deer on April 2nd to see about the chances of a central Alberta league. Surely with the material at hand Bowden will be in the race, and in the league if there is to be one. We all know that a team which is a winner will advertise the town and the surrounding country. It is not too early as yet to begin and think about this, as all the big leagues are now in full swing, and the boys are in practice every day. Why not have the Bowden nine organized and out to practice, for without practice and good management, a baseball team is like a boat without a rudder. It is well known that for the past two years Bowden has had the stuff to make a winning team, but have been severely handicapped by the lack of practice.

BOWDEN, ALTA.

THE HOUSE ADJOURNS

SESSION WILL BE RESUMED ON MAY 26

The Judicial Committee Will Commence Inquiry Into Railway Deal—Beginning of a Long, Quiet Campaign by the Members in Endeavor to Give Electors Opportunity to Hear Both Sides of the Question.

Edmonton.—The last sitting before adjournment was held on Saturday morning, a number of private bills passed through the third reading and partial estimates were passed, after which His Honor, Lieut.-Governor Bullock, gave assent to some fifteen bills. The house now stands adjourned until May 26.

The judicial commission will begin the inquiry into the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway deal during the week, and although the leading counsel has not been named, it is understood that W. L. Walsh, K.C., will be assistant counsel.

The bill to incorporate the Edmonton Interurban Railway was killed in committee in view of the strong protest by the city council and several other unimportant bills which came up were held over until the House meets again after adjournment. The total cut in the estimates brought down was $243,000. The Government asked for $1,691,000, but when the estimates came up they were pared to $1,448,530.

The appropriation for $50,000 for the Edmonton court house was cut to $25,000, and the $50,000 for the Ponoka Asylum was cut to $35,000. The $125,000 on capital account for bridges was cut to $25,000. Mr. Cushing explained that the greater part of the steel work for these bridges was already paid for.

The $10,000 for immigration will be expended by a publicity commission under the agricultural department, which will have for its object the increasing of the population of the province.

Mr. Cushing also spoke against the appropriation for $10,000 for the road to the Grande Prairie Country, saying that this was not the time to build roads. Cornwall disagreed with this, saying there were 11,000 acres of home-stead land there, and no way to get into it, and that the road should be built at once. He said this was the time to get the work done, and Puffer also said this was the right time to build roads. Hoadley thought inexperienced settlers should not be encouraged to go there, as there was no railroad. The money was not granted.

Although this is the end of the actual session, for a time, it is the beginning of a long, quiet campaign, as both sides will flood the country with men and pamphlets to give the electors an opportunity to hear both sides of the story.

Want Packing Plant

Lloydminster, Alta.—A representative of the Alberta government, Mr. Stevens, addressed the Lloydminster branch of the U. F. A. here recently. He came to explain the government's proposal for aiding and equipping the pork-packing plant in Alberta, concerning which the farmers have talked much during the past two years.

Mr. Stevens said that the government would require, before taking the matter up, a guarantee from the farmers of the province of an annual supply of at least 50,000 hogs. The funds for the plant would then be provided by the government as a loan, and the ownership of the plant would be gradually transferred from the government to the farmers.

That the Lloydminster farmers approve of the plan, was shown by the eagerness with which they signed the papers guaranteeing a big annual delivery of hogs for the plant.

Famine is Anticipated in China

Victoria.—The steamer Empress of India reached this port recently bringing among her passengers the new Chinese consul general to San Francisco, Lung Luen Fong, and suite, and Chang Shan Teck, consul to Lima, Peru, family and suite. The new consul to Peru is a Seattle born Chinese.

The captain reports from Western China reports that severe famines are anticipated toward the headwaters of the Yangtze, involving nearly a million people.

The steamer brought a rich cargo, including silk worth half a million dollars.

The wireless operator was in communication with Honolulu at a distance of 2,500 miles outboard, and received signals from Japan, home bound, at a distance of 1,700 miles.

British Goods to Bear British Stamp

London.—Representative business men and manufacturers have decided to form an Association to suppress methods adopted by foreigners who pass off their goods as British. The first step to be taken will be the adoption of "all British" trademark. Allusion is made to a letter from the Canadian department of commerce testifying to the success of a similar action by Canadian manufacturers.

Shipping Canadian Silver to England

St. Catharines, Ont.—A novel sight was witnessed here when three lorries loaded with solid silver were driven to the depot for shipment to England. The silver was in 176 bars and weighed 13,200 pounds. It was refined at Thorold from ore from the Crogins mine.

LORDS NOT EAGER FOR REFORM

Election of Members is Opposed—Lansdowne Thinks His Majesty Should Nominate Peers

London.—The lords referred Lord Rosebery's resolutions, looking to the reform of the chamber, to a committee which will consider them next week. The tenor of the debate shows that there is more moral than practical sympathy in the house with the reform idea and those supporting Rosebery, advanced such different views on the matter in which the reform should be carried out that, if reform is ever achieved from within, it will certainly prove a long and troublesome process, and be likely to leave the house as much a deputy chamber as before.

Lord Lansdowne, in a speech gave a modified support towards Lord Rosebery's scheme, but spoke strongly for the retention of the hereditary principle. He advocated the election of a reduced house by the peers themselves and the exclusion of any colonial representatives. He agreed that new blood was wanted but preferred life peerages by the king's nomination to Rosebery's suggestion of election by city councils. In the meantime, Premier Asquith's resolutions on the veto question are promised for next week.

The house of commons passed the second reading of the bill under which the Indian government seeks power to raise $125,000,000 for railway and irrigation development for commercial, not strategic, purposes.

Eulogizes Patriotism of the West

Toronto.—"There are more Canadians today, born in Canada, residents of the United States than there are in Western Canada. Why did these men in the West remain instead of going south of the line. It was because they were Canadians in spirit, and wanted to remain in Canada."

In these words, Hon. Frank Oliver defended the Canadians in the northwest before the Canadian Club at their luncheon.

Mr. Oliver said that he did it because he had heard it from the lips of public men and read it in the papers, that there was a great misconception down east as to the spirit of patriotism existing out west. Mr. Oliver said that if easterners wanted to see what the real Canadian spirit was they must look west of Lake Superior.

Exinction of Seal

Washington.—The reference of a bill prohibiting the killing of seal, on and adjacent to the Pribiloff Islands in the Pacific, precipitated a heated debate in the senate, during which Senator Root vigorously objected to the matter going to the committee on conservation of natural resources. Mr. Root said that negotiations with Great Britain were in progress at present, which rendered it most important that the foreign affairs committee which had had the subject in hand should continue to exercise its supervision. He spoke especially of the fact that Japanese fishing vessels had invaded the seal waters, killing every seal that came their way. "We are face to face with the certain fact," said Mr. Root, "that the necessary result will be destruction of the seal herd and the only way to bring it to an end is by international negotiations and agreements."

Germany Pleased

Berlin.—Germany counts on profiting handsomely by the impending Canadian-American tariff hostilities. America is regarded here as a more dangerous rival to Germany's trade and ambitions in the Dominion than England or France and anything calculated to stem the American invasion of the Canadian market is therefore hailed as an ill wind which can only blow Germany good.

The Vossische Zeitung, commenting recently on the possibilities of this fiscal war, observed that Germany had every reason to sit back and enjoy the conflict, silently smiling. The German press is publishing with pride statistics showing the growth of the German population in Canada. It is said that 170,000 Germans are now residents in the western provinces alone, and it is believed that these will be active promoters of German trade and ambitions in their adopted fatherland.

Calgary Horse Show

Calgary, Alta.—Nearly a thousand entries will be the total for this year's indoor horse show. Last year was thought a great success when the list contained over six hundred. Alberta being a great horse country, there is naturally representations from all sections, but in addition to this there are entries from New York and Toronto. An additional row of boxes has been placed in the Sherman rink where the show will be held, and the general seating capacity is also greatly increased.

C.P.R. Line from Coast to Red Deer

Montreal.—Shaughnessy stated that he had no information to make public regarding the announcement from the west that the C.P.R. had acquired interests in the Alberta Central railway. It is now thought the C.P.R. will build a line running from Vancouver to the south side of Thompson river, thence through the Yellowhead pass to Red Deer. The line along Thompson river is said to be already surveyed.

Believe it is a Bluff

London.—No very great importance is attached in banking circles to the possibility of a tariff war between Canada and the United States. It is believed that the United States is much in the wrong, and that the action is only regarded as a bluff.

TWO POWER STANDARD

NAVAL STANDARD FOR GREAT BRITAIN IS DEFINED

Pall Mall Gazette Publishes Text of an Official Memorandum on the Subject—To Cope with Political Combination of Any Two Great Powers—Prediction of the Future Development of the Navy.

London.—In order to clear up the obscurity which has surrounded the government's definition of its two-power naval standard for Great Britain, the Pall Mall Gazette publishes the text of an official memorandum on the subject which was privately circulated by the admiralty in 1905 and has never before been published.

The memorandum says that a fair definition of the two-power standard may reasonably be taken as that which will give Great Britain good hopes of success against a political combination of any two great powers.

This standard, adds the memorandum, has never been interpreted as one of bare numerical equality in any class of warships. It manifestly requires a certain margin of superiority over the naval strength of any two powers.

The Pall Mall Gazette construes this as extinguishing completely Prime Minister Asquith's contention that the United States under existing conditions could not be counted on as one of any two powers that might enter into a combination against Great Britain. Reginald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty, when questioned on this subject during the debate on the naval estimates in the house of commons, said the three powers nearest to Great Britain in naval strength were so equal that it did not make any difference which two were taken into consideration.

London.—Increased size of battleships without a limit in sight, greater speed, larger guns and less armor were the predictions about warship development Rear-Admiral Bacon, director of naval ordnance, made in addressing the institute of Naval Architecture. "The increase in size must continue," he said, "until a war confirmed or explained the present theories."

Speaking from his experience as the first captain of the first Dreadnought, and with the authority of director of naval ordnance, he declared himself in favor of leviathan construction, and regarded ships of 40,000 tons as "only a step" toward the possible eventual fighting monsters.

He scouted the idea that such ships could not be maneuvered satisfactorily on a fleet. He found the Dreadnought more easily handled even in a close harbor than ships 50 per cent smaller. Contending that it was impossible to build a ship able to resist a torpedo explosion, Admiral Bacon said it was his opinion that the power of the torpedo will be greatly increased. Indeed the improvements in torpedoes were probably only in their infancy.

West Figures in Estimates

Ottawa.—Supplementary estimates for the current year amounting to $2,302,117, were tabled in the commons by Hon. W. S. Fielding. Of this $1,718,610 is chargeable to the consolidated fund and $583,500 to capital, while the rest covers "unprovided items."

The votes include: Experimental farms and additional branch stations, $25,000; repairing Sault Ste. Marie canal locks, $135,000; Port Arthur and Port William harbor improvements, $295,000; Tiffin harbor improvements, $23,000; Victoria harbor improvements, $36,000; Moose Jaw immigration building, $3,900; Bismarck immigration building, $2,800; Phillips (Alberta) immigration building, $2,700; Battleford immigration building, $2,700; Saskatoon public building, $300; further amount required for protection of timber in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, the Northwest Territories and the railway belt in British Columbia, tree culture in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and inspection and management of forest reserves, $25,000.

No Chance, Say U. S. Officials

Washington.—The officials of the State Department have practically abandoned hope of making any arrangements with Canada, and believe that it is altogether probable that on April 1st the maximum tariff will go into force automatically against imports from that country. Negotiations with the franchise are still pending, and it is hoped that they will be concluded before April 1.

Lords Favor Reform

London.—Lord Rosebery's resolution in connection with the reform of the house of lords was carried without a division. Lord Lansdowne accepted the principle of reform, but refused to entirely surrender the hereditary right. Lord Crew, in reply, pointed out that the Lords had always had a voice in the reform of the commons, and it was only right that the commons should have something to say in regard to the mending of the Lords.

Important Case Won

Edmonton.—The appeal court of Alberta handed that the Alberta Railway and Irrigation company at Lethbridge must build bridges at all points where their irrigation ditches cross established roads and road allowances. This is a victory for the provincial government who brought a motion against the company to force them to build bridges and secured judgment which was appealed.

HAVE THE JAPS OUTWITTED U.S.

Orientalists Said to Have Organized Vast Movement Against the States

London.—Stung by American attempts to lower the prestige and reduce the power of Japan in the far east the statesmen of Tokio have engineered a vast, tacit coalition against the United States, according to reports in circulation in semi-official circles. Cloaking their motives in public clamor against America in Japan, while ostensibly frowning on these demonstrations, the advisors of the Japanese emperor are declared to have been quietly working for the combination that would effectually shut off America's prospects of sharing in the unplumbed Asiatic markets. The results of these efforts are already apparent and it is expected that within three months an open move will be made showing the hand of the conspiring nations. Mr. Oishi, a prominent member of the diet, demanded an alliance with Russia at Tokio at the people's party convention.

Hudson Bay Line Seems a Certainty

Prince Albert, Sask.—Dr. Reid, of London, England, is here in connection with the Hudson Bay and Pacific railway, and will have charge as medical superintendent over all the construction camps in connection with the building of the road. When interviewed the doctor said:

"We mean business and I think that before many weeks, or as soon as the frost is out of the ground, you will see the plows at work in building the grade of the Hudson Bay and Pacific railway. I am not ready to give out much information as yet and prefer to wait for Mr. Atwood, chief engineer, of London, England, and A. J. Taylor, a contractor, of New York."

"A flying survey has been made, but it is the intention of the engineer to organize survey parties to complete the survey as soon as he gets here."

"What route will be followed and what will be the cost of the road?"

"The road will run from Edmonton to Prince Albert, and from there through to the Pass and on to Fort Churchill, from there the line will run up through Athabasca. We propose opening up all the Athabasca territory and we estimate that the distance covered by the new road will be 1,800 miles. The cost we expect will be $25,000 per mile."

"Will the building be started from Prince Albert or from different points?"

"So far as I know," said the doctor, "the building will be done from four or five different centres. I expect from Prince Albert, Edmonton, the Pass and Fort Churchill. It is estimated the company will engage 40,000 men in construction work. A number of men will likely be brought in but we hope to get the greater number in western Canada."

To Develop Georgian Bay Canal Soon

Montreal.—Interest is again being aroused in the Georgian Bay canal scheme. It is announced in Montreal that Sir Robt. Perks will be here soon in connection with the big project. W. J. Poupere is in Ottawa in connection with the scheme. As the act respecting the company has received the royal assent, it is thought that some development in the matter will soon be reached.

S. R. Casgrain, when spoken to said he hoped an agreement would be reached between the company and the government so as to enable a start to be made on the work as soon as possible.

"As one of the delegates who recently waited on the premier," said Casgrain, "I have every hope that the government will soon be in a position to take definite action. In fact I believe the work will be started much sooner than most people anticipated."

Seeding in the West

Regina, Sask.—The remarkable summer weather of the past week, the thermometer during the last few days ranging in the neighborhood of 60, is the subject of widespread comment. From all parts of the country reports of seeding are coming in and if present conditions continue sowing will possibly be fairly general, a state of things which, according to old timers, has only once before been equalled during the last twenty years.

The minister of agriculture, Hon. R. W. Motherwell, states that his department has received reports of seeding from Swift Current, Battleford, Humboldt and Indian Head. He was, however, somewhat doubtful of the wisdom of rushing seeding in March in view of possible damage from late frosts.

Lloyd-George on Verge of Collapse

London.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George is on the verge of what his friends fear is a physical collapse. He left for Brighton for six weeks rest. The chancellor plainly shows the results of terrific work and worry he has undergone in the last six months.

"I simply need a brief rest," he said, in taking leave of his friends, but the letter was afraid he is over-sanguine. The political situation is still so complicated that it is not believed the chancellor will submit to as long a period of inactivity as his condition requires.

Meat Trust in Western Canada

Winnipeg.—A meeting of stock dealers and live stock shippers was held recently to discuss the meat trust in Western Canada. They will urge that a public abattoir be inaugurated at once, either in Winnipeg or St. Boniface. The Provincial Government has voted $150,000 towards the scheme.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XIII.—FIRST QUARTER, FOR MARCH 27, 1910

Text of the Lesson, Mark xvi, 1-8 Memory Verses, 6, 7—Golden Text, Rev. i, 18—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Having the option of a review or a resurrection lesson, we choose the Easter lesson, as there is nothing so grand as His resurrection, by which He was declared to be the Son of God, with power and without which preaching and faith are vain and no one ever has been or can be saved. The resurrection, however, must include all of His earthly life that preceded His death. His life as the Son of Mary, the seed of David according to the flesh. Matt. i gives the royal line of David's descendants through Solomon to Joseph, who became the husband of Mary, while Luke iii gives David's descendants through Nathan to Heli, whose son-in-law Joseph became by his marriage to Mary, and thus Jesus became heir to David's throne.

The quarter's lessons might be outlined as, first, the genealogy and birth of the King; second, the visit of the Magi and the flight of Joseph and Mary to Egypt and their return to Nazareth; third, the herald of the King and the declaration of the Father concerning Him; fourth, the King's victory over the great adversary. His testimony and the calling of some disciples; fifth to seventh, the laws of the kingdom; eighth and ninth, some samples of the nature of the kingdom.

Now, as the kingdom was postponed by the rejection and murder of the King we in this age must know the power of His resurrection if we would walk worthy of Him and manifest His life in these mortal bodies. The resurrection of the Messiah was plainly foretold in Ps. xvi and xxii, Isa. liii and elsewhere. It was wondrously foreshadowed in Isaac being given back to Abraham from the dead in a figure (Heb. xi, 17-19). In His teaching the Lord Jesus Himself many times spoke plainly of His death and resurrection, and the great truth of Christianity is that we have at the right hand of the Father in heaven a risen living Christ, truly a man and truly God, in whom alone is salvation, the only Judge of all mankind and the only One who can set up a kingdom of righteousness on the earth.

The most horrible thing that ever happened on this earth and that which shows the desperately wicked nature of the human heart was the cruel murder of the Son of God, but God raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory and will yet give Him dominion over all the earth, and His redeemed shall share the kingdom with Him.

His disciples never received His words that He was to be crucified and rise from the dead the third day (Matt. xx, 17-19), but some of His enemies remembered them (Matt. xxvii, 62, 63). His mother and some of the other women who ministered to Him remained by His cross to the last, and some of them after His body was buried returned and prepared spices and ointments and rested the Sabbath day according to the commandment, intending on the first day to bring the spices and anoint His body (Luke xxiii, 55, 56; xxiv, 1).

When they came to the tomb on the first day morning early they find the stone rolled away, they see an angel, who tells them that He is risen and that they must go quickly and tell His disciples. When Mary Magdalene saw the stone rolled away she ran to tell Peter and John, who ran to the sepulcher and saw for themselves and returned, but Mary remained near the sepulcher, weeping, till Jesus Himself, whom she thought at first to be the gardener, spoke to her and called her by name. When she and the other women told the disciples that He was risen from the dead they believed not, and some thought it an idle tale (verses 11, 13, 14; Luke xxiv, 11), giving Him occasion to upbraid them with their unbelief and hardness of heart. Many who now are told that the same Jesus is coming again think it an idle tale and believe not, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God and perhaps forgetting that Jesus said, "O fools and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken" (Luke xxiv, 25). The angels believe and desire to look more fully into these things (verses 5-7; I Pet. i, 12). Dr. Scofield gives in the margin of verse 6 this rendering: "Jesus ye seek—the Nazarene, the crucified." He arose. He is not here." He also gives in his notes on Matt. xxvii the order of the events of that morning and also the order of the different appearances during those forty days. Note in verse 7 of our lesson how Peter is mentioned by name, the true disciple who had treated Him the worst, denying with oaths that he knew Him. How true it is that weakest lambs have largest share of this tender Shepherd's care! However weak and unworthy you may be, remember that "having loved His own He loved them unto the end" (John xiii, 1).

A more knowledge of the facts of His life and death and resurrection will benefit us nothing unless, knowing these things, we truly receive Him as our own personal Saviour and place our whole trust as lost people in the efficacy of His great sacrifice. Then the joy of being redeemed will lead us to obey with gladness His command in verse 15, counting upon a fulfillment of verse 20. Our daily life will be "serving the living and true God" and our attitude "waiting for His Son from heaven" (I Thess. i, 9, 10).

TROCHU.

Mr. L. C. Eckenfelder, secretary of the Trochu Agricultural Society, received a communication from the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton last week detailing the exact rules and regulations respecting the formation of the society, and outlining the course which the society will have to follow in order to secure the government grant. At the next meeting, these rules will be explained to the members. Meanwhile, the society is progressing very favorably and the farmers of the district are displaying a very keen interest in its organization. The membership does not fall far short of the two hundred mark and a few days more of hard work on the part of the committee will easily bring the membership up to the required standard.

G. W. Meldrum, of the Merchants Bank at Olds, was in Trochu for a few days last week inspecting the local branch of the Merchants Bank. Mr. Meldrum was very favorably impressed with the resources of the district and the rapid progress which Trochu has made within the last few months.

Geo Cloakey spent a few days this week visiting his father and mother on their farm near Trochu. Dr. J. D. Milne was taken suddenly ill on Tuesday, March 15th, and was forced to journey to Calgary to receive medical attention. The doctor is staying at the Calgary Hospital and his condition is reported not serious. Mr. W. H. S. Garrick accompanied him to Calgary. We hope shortly to see the doctor back again in Trochu enjoying his usual good health.

Operations are still being continued on the Parnell coal mine near Trochu. An exceedingly hard seam of coal has been reached at a depth of forty-five feet after drilling thru twelve feet of solid rock. Mr. Parnell states that they have also reached a thin layer of iron ore.

The big snowslides and floods which have been creating much disaster west of the Rocky Mountains, both in Canada and the United States, have prevented the large party of settlers from Washington from venturing to move their effects to Trochu. It is expected, however that they will arrive here in a few days.

F. W. Golling returned to Trochu this week after a brief visit to North Dakota.

Mr. Burns, proprietor of the Trochu Lumber yard, left for Calgary this week to purchase several carloads of lumber. Mr. Burns has completed his stable and is now building a large house for his family.

Felix Currier, who left Trochu two weeks ago, is making a trip to Montana with Mike Brogan and will assist in driving up a large bunch of horses to Alberta.

The main party of the final G. T. P. Railway survey returned to Trochu this week, having completed their survey to Calgary. The line passes directly thru Trochu, spanning the coulee immediately south of the townsite. We have every reason to believe that the line will pass over this survey and that a station will be built at Trochu.

The G. T. P. are now making arrangements for the purchasing of the right of way and we confidently expect grading operations to commence almost at once.
